Short Biography

Linde Kriel (b. 2000, Vanderbijlpark), who also works under the name Linde Van der Linde, is a Johannesburg-based conceptual artist, curator and researcher. Working across handmade paper, printmaking, painting, sculpture, installation, photography and cyanotype, he explores identity, grief, belonging, desire and ritual within South African and Christian contexts, with water-based papermaking at the centre of his practice. He holds a BA in Fine Arts with distinction from the University of the Free State and is a Master of Visual Arts candidate at the University of Johannesburg. A Sasol New Signatures Merit Award recipient and four-time finalist, he is the co-founder and curator of Makwande Art Prints.
